FOR HIGHER FEE.—Henry S. Wood, the bankruptcy lawyer, of Mt. Sterling, informs us that there is a move on foot, promoted by the credit men of the large wholesale houses throughout the country and the referees in bankruptcy, to have Congress increase the fees of the various officers in bankruptcy, thus making it cost a great deal more to take advantage of the law. Petitions are being prepared and sent to Congressmen in the various States asking them to vote for the several amendments upon the meeting of Congress. Mr. Wood informs us that the charges for taking advantage of the law will be nearly double in the event the several amendments pass the house.

That she may receive the reward of all good women is the hope and belief of her many friends.

OUTING PARTY RETURNED HOME.—The main body of the outing party returned home from the upper Licking river section last Friday enthusiastic over their manifold pleasures and the unceasing kindness and courtesies of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ragland, who became much attached to them and witnessed their departure with lively regret. A special treat furnished by them was a lot of new sweet potatoes. As each young lady said good-bye to Mr. Ragland a hearty kiss was bestowed on him, and when the L. V. train moved out he was left standing on the platform looking as disconsolate as if he had lost his last friend. All the folks in the neighborhood enjoyed their stay and were sorry to see them leave. Numbers visited the camp, where they were cordially received and found delight in witnessing the dancing and hearing the excellent music of some of the very fine performers in the party. The Licking Union cornet band came down and played one night for the camp. All in all a party never had a more enjoyable experience and doubtless all will look forward with pleasant anticipation to its repetition in the future.

JAMES TILLET DEAD.—After a prolonged state of helplessness from a paralytic stroke, James Tillet breathed his last Thursday, Aug. 3d, at his home in the bend of Licking river a few miles below Wyoming, this county, and was buried next day at Eden's Chapel. He was the last survivor of the children of his father's first marriage. His father was Hiram Tillet. Mechanical ingenuity was a family heritage. Isaac Tillet, a brother, was noted for building and running the first steamboat down Licking river some thirty years ago. James Tillet was about 65 years of age. He was a farmer by occupation, though in his earlier years he did much building and was of marked skill in all sorts of difficult construction. He took pride in the thoroughness of his work, and a job completed by him was as soundly done as its purpose warranted. He was a fine mathematician and practiced surveying, being elected one term as County Surveyor. He was something of a student of books and read French, being a subscriber to a French newspaper. In business he was a high-toned, honorable gentleman, and socially the most genial and kindly of men. He was a first-class citizen, and the county has suffered a distinct loss. Peace to his ashes.

HARDWARE.—Stoves, Tinware, Woodenware, Queensware, Glassware. Get my prices before purchasing.

A FREE CONCERT.—The mocking-bird is just rare enough in this section to make a pair that take up their residence here during the warm season a source of exquisite pleasure to all who are treated to the rendition of a portion of the male's unlimited repertoire. The songs and vocalizations of many other birds are delightful, but when a mocking-bird starts out in earnest to show his virtuosity the efforts of all the other feathered songsters seem amateurish and insignificant in comparison, for the mocker imitates the most difficult ones to perfection, and by jumping from one to another in quick succession affords in an hour a medley of great variety as a person would hear ordinarily in a whole season. A pair of mockers have been dwelling in the Cemetery trees this summer, and when the air is damp and a shower threatens the male sets out to tell his joy in existence with an intoxication and rapture that is beyond comparison. A singularity of his powers is that he can sing without the loss of a note while flying over long stretches. Alighting on the lower branches of a tree he immediately begins a fitting ascent to the topmost twig, in full song, and all as easy and natural apparently as breathing. When not on the wing his garb seems Quaker-like in its soberness, but he must every few minutes make upward a flight of a few feet like he was chasing an insect, returning to the same perch. Then it is seen that he has a generous trimming of white on his undergarments. Great is the mocking-bird and when a pair honor a neighborhood with their presence they deserve to have the freedom of the country and the right to gladden all outdoors with their melody, without the slightest molestation.

REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE MEETING.—Pursuant to a call by the Chairman, the Bath Co. Republican Executive Committee met here on last Saturday, July 29th. A quorum answered present, and the following business was transacted, viz:—
